Morton and Albert Freeman, and the acquittal of Josiah Quincy, twice mayor of Boston and assistant secretary of state during and assistant secretary of state during the Cleveland administration.

Jury Out 27 Hours. Hawthorne, Morton and Freeman were found guilty of making fraudu-lent use of the mails in selling stock in the exploitation of Canadian ore the exploitation of Canadian ore claims. Quincy, exonerated by United States Judge Mayer on all counts of five indictments before the case reached the jury, was held not guilty on the one remaining indictment of conspiracy in allowing his name to be used in promoting this stock. The jury was out 27 hours.

Five Years for Freeman, Judge Mayer pronounced sentence on the three men whom the jury had found guilty and paroled Quincy until next October, when he is directed to appear in answer to two indictments still pending against him. Freeman, a New York business man for 28 years, New York business man for 26 years, was sentenced to five years in the federal penitentiary at Atlanta. Hawthorne, son of Nathaniel Hawthorne, the novelist, and himself an author, and Dr. William J. Morton, son of Dr. W. T. G. Morton, the first user of ether in surgical operations, were sentenced each to one year and one day at Atlanta. Freeman's prison term is to date from the first of the present year and the terms of Hawthorne and Morton from Nov. 25, the day the trial was begun.

Ten Day Stay Granted. Of 27 counts against the three men Of 27 counts against the three men found's guilty. Freeman was acquitted of four and Hawthorne and Morton of seven each. Judge Mayer granted a ten day stay to allow counsel for the defense to appeal the cases.

UNJUSTLY TREATED

Had Fairest Trial Possible.

Judge Mayer in denying these requests and passing sentence declared that the defendants had "the fairest trial possible." They were charged by the government with having obtained about $500,000 from the public in their exploitation of the so-called Haw thorne properties.

Of the three found guilty, Dr. Morton appeared to take his sentence most to heart. The conviction was not a surprise to him, he said. He declared he was not guilty, but had expected to be adjudged so for the reason that the American people treated his father unjustly and he himself had always looked forward to some calamity to befall him. His father invented ether, Dr. Morton asserted, and the public of the same large of 48. men have not received their proper share in revenue gains of the eastern rallroads during the past ten years, according to the statement of W. J. demands for increased pay and better working conditions.

Mr. Lauck declared:

"On the basis of a revenus train mile, the cost of firemen has advanced only 22 hundredths of one per cent. during the past fiscal year, while there was a gain of transportation revenue of ten cents or expressed in other terms, for each additional $1,000 paid firemen there was proportionately an increased revenue yield of $45,000 per revenue train mile. During the past 11 years the outlay for locomotive firemen per revenue train mile has increased only 1.75 cents as compared with a gain of 55 cents in transportation revenue. The transportation revenue gain since the year 1907 on these railroads has been approximately 26 times the rise in cost of firemen per revenue train mile." "If every man, woman and child in this world who has been saved by ether from pain and suffering were to pay to the Morton family what is its due," he declared, "the Morton family would be one of the wealthiest in the world." Quincy, upon being freed, hastened to a telephone and notified friends of the jury's verdict. He expressed sor-row at the conviction of his co-defend-Hawthorne declared the indictments should have been interlocked so that it would have been "all or none." All were equally responsible for their op-erations, he said, in commenting upon Quincy's acquittal.

"You cannot answer my message for fear of arrest? That's the season, isn't it? If you knew how sick and lonely and sorrowful I am you would come to me at once. I know you would. You would, wouldn't you? I want you near me. I am alone and fairs. I heard a strange, squeaking hurdy-gurdy noise, and turning a corner came upon a crowd of children round a cart on which on a table above their heads three marionette me. And, Oh, I want my bables. If I could see them even for a short time to believe I would feel easier. Do you think I could?
